Design Cayman 101

Tip of the week:
Always speak to an Architect before purchasing a vacant piece of land or an existing home you are thinking of renovating. By knowing the problems and potential challenges prior to the purchase, you can make a more fully informed decision.

Design Intelligence

Consider the void between walls as a material entity, to be moulded and sculpted through the tools of architectural design.

These voids are essential to create memories and to enrich our lives, therefore it is of utmost importance to prioritize the voids rather than the tools, to create an exceptional design.

Inspirational Trends

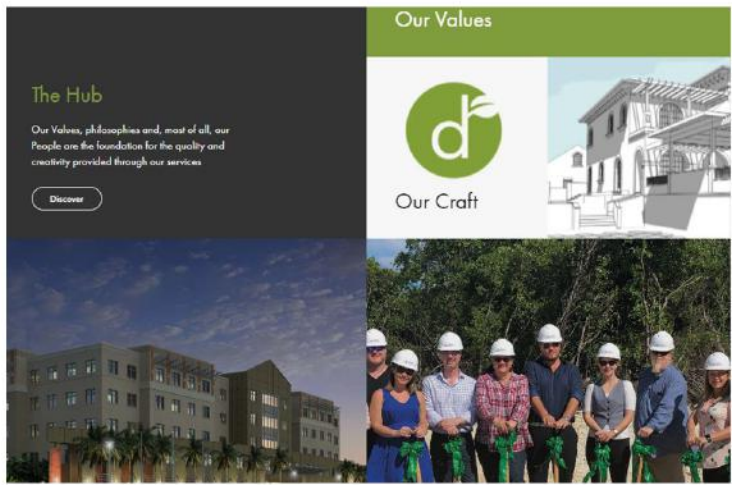

We are up to date on all the latest Architectural design trends and the latest technologies. This week's inspirational photo is of kinetic screens of the Al Bahar Towers, in Abu Dhabi.

These dynamic and automatic screens operate as a curtain wall with clusters of triangle screens. The concept derived from a large blossoming flower shading the building.

Client Relationships

"Brian and his team came to the table with a cost conscious and quality focused approach. They listened to our dreams and of an ideal house and interpreted them into reality. They were exceptionally creative in their thinking and the net result has been a stunning design which is timeless and functional but unlike anything we have ever seen."

Ideas to Action

It has been 12 years since Design Cayman was established. This year we invest in developing a new strategic positioning statement so as to further understand ourselves and so how we can serve our clients.

We are excited to (very soon!) be launching a wholly new website, we can't wait to share it!

Design Cayman Fun

Breakfast is the most important meal of the day!

Every other month DCL gets together to casually discuss projects with our colleagues over breakfast.

We had a fantastic time at Laurens, would definitely recommend it!
