Design Cayman 101

Trusting your Architect, is of vital importance.

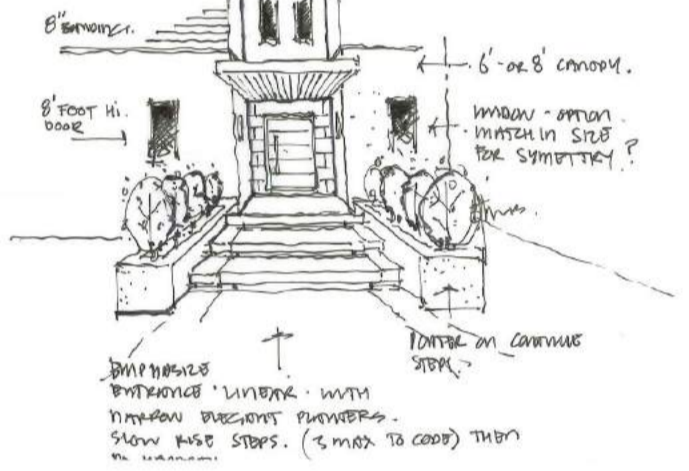

An Architect is responsible for the design, project management and coordination between the different consultants. You need to feel understood when you express your design wishes and needs.

Design (Cayman) prepared a 12 step program to ensure our clients' needs are met and to manage the Project effectively and efficiently.

Design Intelligence

Sketching is the language of an Architect.

A creative Architectural thought cannot be accurately expressed without the help of the pen. A sketch is the most expressive and effective way to communicate thoughts and ideas, provide meaning, definition and context to how a space may be experienced and used.

Inspirational Trends

An 'Inside-Outside' sequencing flow in spaces can easily be achieved in Cayman due to our climate. Indoor spaces can extend to the outdoors and visa versa. We aim for physical or visual extensions between a residential communal area and Cayman's beach.

This week's inspiration is a residential home near Vernice Beach. The colours compliment each other in creative, yet subtle manner.

Client Relationships

"Brian and Alan at Design Cayman were receptive to our remit to design a light, airy and cosy family home, with no wasted space. They were professional and enthusiastic during the whole design process and, importantly, captured our imagination in the design of the wonderful home we desired. They provided first class personal service and we would highly recommend to anyone."

Ideas to Action

It has been 12 years since Design Cayman was established. This year we developed a new strategic positioning statement and are thrilled to invite you to visit our new website.

Design Cayman Fun

This was a fun day with the CEC group we enjoyed on site with our hardhats.
